

SMALL-SPACE SOLUTIONS

LET NO SPACE GO TO WASTE

A single oven that does the work of two by toggling between microwave and convection settings. A wall-mounted bathroom vanity that keeps the floor clear but still has room for storage. A bed with built-in drawers that doubles as a dresser. Now, that's smart use of space. Just about any house can benefit from such versatile appliances, fixtures, and furnishings. So whether you're restyling the kitchen in a compact suburban cottage, renovating the powder room in a petite city apartment, or just dressing up a diminutive den, we've got a small-space problem solver that's right for you.

hideaways:

Slide-out drawers, swing-up tops, and tuck-in trays conceal clutter so rooms feel spacious, not confined.

STORAGE SLEEPER

Turn the area beneath the bed into useful storage-free clear-away space. The Stratton bed, available in white or stained wood, also has two spacious drawers. Queen size (without the mattress) costs $1,599. gotbyfurniture.com

CANTILEVERED SINK

Wall-mount bathroom vanities that extend over the tub to keep up floor space. Problem? They lack the storage capacity of freestanding vanities. Not the Hazy Creek, which has an attached cabinet that tucks above the tub rather than resting on it. $1,475. stark.com

STYLISH STORAGE The Colton Benchie is a bench, ottoman, and cedar-lined chest all in one. It's also a locker, upholstered in leather and treated with brass nail heads. $1,395. www.houzz.com

OFFICE IN A BOX

The scaled-down computer armoire, just 25 1/2 inches wide by 23 1/2 inches deep, holds all the essentials—CPU, monitor, keyboard, printer, message boards, plus mail and magazines—creating an instant office in any room. $199. csnofficefurniture.com

MULTI-TASKING KITCHEN APPLIANCES, STREAMLINED BATH FIXTURES, AND TRIM FURNITURE PIECES LET YOU LIVE LARGE IN COZY QUARTERS

BY TERRY TRUCCO

OFFICE IN A BOX

This scaled-down computer armoire, just 35 1/2 inches wide by 23 1/2 inches deep, holds all the essentials—CPU, monitor, keyboard, printer, message boards, plus mail and magazines—creating an instant office in any room. $519. csnofficefurniture.com

