

Modern, Meet Green

Sustainability Never Looked So Good Thanks To AllModern.com

As a new season emerges outside, décor lovers often want to refresh living spaces indoors, too. This year, the intense focus on greening your home adds yet another dimension to redecorating, as the sustainability movement gains more ground nationwide. Always trend-setting, CSN Stores' AllModern.com has done more than ever to incorporate green trends in '08. With several new "eco" lines, AllModern is proving that sustainability can, indeed, be very stylish. Here's AllModern's "Eco Guide" to what's hot in today's Green Scene.

Gus Goes Green -- Made of extruded, organic plastic strands, these unique household containers from Gus Modern are a must have for eco-friendly dwellings. The Organic Tray ($103.50), Organic Magazine Basket ($92), and Organic Bowl ($80.50) are available in four fun colors and are food safe and fully recyclable. Just imagine the looks of wonder on guests' faces when you serve them snacks or offer them reading material with these items. Conversations on saving the world are sure to surface.

Get In The Green Habit With Inhabit -- The Inhabit Industry Wall Flats ($86 for a set of 10) are sure to infuse both class and eye-enticing texture into your home environment. Made from bamboo pulp, one of the most renewable resources in the world, these wall flats are designed to expand in any direction, and promise to add a modern touch to any setting.

Go Futuristic With Anodized Aluminum -- The Street Stacking Armchair ($490) makes your space feel as if it's a flash from the future. This gorgeous chair features a flowing, space-age, curvilinear form with distinctive perforations on the seat back. Made from 100 percent recyclable anodized aluminum and plastic connectors, this armchair is an excellent choice for modern design enthusiasts investing in a healthier environment now and for future generations. The chair is stackable up to six high for compact storage, as well.

Build Green Foundations -- Your kids can evolve beyond antiquated building blocks with this ingenious Spaceframe Sculpture Kit ($199). Constructed from polyester material that's child-safe and recyclable, the Spaceframe's interlocking pieces can be reconfigured to be a fort, playhouse, artistic sculpture or anything else your child can envision. At the same time, you can teach your kids about the importance of going green now and sustaining the effort when they, themselves, have little ones decades from now
