

Innovative, New Herman Miller Collection Beautifully Fuses Life with Work

AllModern.com Selected As Semi-Exclusive Retailer of The Lifework Collection Designed Specifically for Home Offices

When not at work or play, we almost instinctively engage in our life-work: we pay bills, complete projects, finish homework, read news, send e-mails - the list goes on, and differs for everyone. The Lifework Portfolio is Herman Miller's ergonomic and innovative collection of desks, storage pieces, seating, and accessories designed to help individuals work comfortably and effectively at home. AllModern.com has been selected as just one of a few online retailers to represent this breakthrough, high-end line.

Whether you're working full time at home or simply require a space for tasks and after-work assignments, a home office can be one of the most important, and difficult to furnish, rooms in a household. The ideal 'home office' is a fusion of its two elements – a room that blends the warmth and familiarity of a home with the functionality of an office. The Lifework Collection embodies this fusion with elegant, adaptable furniture that enhances both traditional and contemporary surroundings. The pieces, with their complementary design, practical function, and ergonomic support, “work together” to keep one's home office running beautifully.

The goal of accommodating a wide range of user needs influenced the collection's design significantly. Designer Kim Colin explains that they wanted to create a collection that “was functional and flexible to match people's lives, yet simple, understated, and elegant, so that it fits in multiple environments.” It's this ingenious adaptability that makes the Lifework pieces so unique and timeless.

Individuals can choose from the many Lifework pieces to create the perfect work/home environment. Designer Daniel Korb encourages the mixing and matching of pieces, and says that “by adding optional desktop storage or media cabinets, a home office can grow to be more adaptable to a personal space and work style.” See the entire Lifework Collection on AllModern.com.
