

Patriotic Home Furnishing for the Inauguration

by Maura Grunlund / Staten Island Advance

Monday January 05, 2009, 5:00 AM

As the excitement builds toward the inauguration of President-elect Barack Obama Americans are buying patriotic home furnishings.

Plenty of these items are sold at stores all over Staten Island, but if it's cold and you don't want to venture outdoors there's always the internet.

CSN Stores, an e-retailer for home goods, is offering a variety of politically themed items. Advanced Graphics Celebrity Cardboard Cutouts are life-size stand-ins of politicians such as Obama and future secretary of state Hillary Clinton and symbols such as the Statue of Liberty.

Presidential war art such as prints and paintings of Obama and previous presidents also are sold.

Plush Joy Carpets with presidents and other patriotic symbols are available. The website is loaded with flags and Old Glory theme products.

Cuisipro Red Stars Cookie Cutter Sets are ideal for people baking cookies to celebrate the inauguration.

Stuffed animals such as American Eagles are made by Hansa.

A lit God Bless America sign on the lawn would be a bold way to put a message on your lawn.

For information click on http://www.csnstores.com/asp/show_collection.asp?XnID=26279 or

Courtesy of CSN Stores

An cutout of President-elect Barack Obama